It is a source of profound gratification that our leading men and prominent public speakers are so fully and patriotically alive to the exigencies of the hour. It will be seen, from the list of appointments which we publish elsewhere, that Gov. Vance, Senator Merrimon and the Hon. W. M. Robbins have buckled on the harness and propose to address the people, at various points, on the vital issues of the day, and to endeavor to arouse the Democrats of North Carolina to the high duty incumbent upon them. In the First District, we have assurances that those gallant champions of the cause, Jarvis, Coke, Latham, Shepherd, and others, will do splendid service. In this District, we have effective orators and popular gentlemen, in whom the people have confidence, who will doubtless be heard from before the campaign closes. Our candidates for Congress, in the respective Districts, are laboring with industry, earnestness and admirable effect. Let us all put our shoulders to the wheel. ### WAKE FOREST COLLEGE.

The Pleasant Term-time--The tlemen. Correspondence of the N. ws.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE.

Sept. 28d, 1878. There are few stronger contrasts than are presented by a college during vacation and during term time. It is quite depressing to wander through the grounds and buildings, when professors and students are away and it is equally inspiriting to hear, as one can daily now, the cheerful voices of young men, intent upon work or pleasure. Mr. Jacob Allen's workmen are helping to make things lively with their cries for mortar and brick mingling with the sound of saw and hammer. And there is more cheerfulness in the faces of the citizens and friends of the college than usual, for there are twenty-five per cent more students on the ground than there were last year at this time. This morning I went into the chapel. Part of the evergreen decorations over the rostrum had been removed, leaving only "Welcome, 1878," which applies as well to the opening of the session as young gentlemen. Specially is it pleasant to see entirely lacking, so far as faces can reveal, the signs of dissipation. A gentleman who has resided here some years has informed me that he has never seen any one intoxicated or heard an oath at Wake Forest. Of course it is not intended to be said that all of the students are free from bad habits. But it is generally believed, I think, by those who know the place, that there are many influences to shield or reclaim a young man and that as soon as a young man shows that he is doing harm to others and no good te himself, he is quietly removed. Thomas Jefferson used to say that people were too much governed, and there is no doubt that under the old system students were too much watched and chased and disciplined. Public opinion among the young men is, I believe at Wake Forest the main lever of governing power. A youth who behaves himselt like a gentleman and pays attention to his work, will never know from experience that there is any dis-

But I did not mean to let my pen wander on so dry and trite a subject as college discipline. The News wants

Well, the new building has assumed the proportions of a handsome and spacious edifice. It does honor to Messrs. J. M. Heck and John G. Williams, of your city, to whose munificence the college is indebted for the gift. They, however, have not consented that the building should be called after their names, but have authorized the Phi Society to have a marble slab inserted in the front gable in honor of Dr Samuel Wayt, one of the members of the Society. This slab is now in place and is a hand-some piece of work. The inscription is:

This she stated to be between eleven and twelve o'clock, and about one she and her daughter got into the buggy with him and drove to her house, where he remained all night, leaving next morning in the direction of Morganton. On cross-examination, the witness said she was down to Hickory to look at the place and country around to decide if she would move there, but it came out that she spent only an hour or so in the place, and made little or no inquiry for a place, and looked at no houses. She said she remembered the date from writing letters that night to her people in Union, which Hoke Secrest carried for her. When questioned as to the depot, platform, road and crossings in Hickory, the witness was not able to locate them properly, and if Secrest had been driving his buggy from the direction she stated, the train would have been between her and him; and in fact there was no road where she said he was. But in deportment the witness bore herself well on the stand. She had never before been summoned in the case, and a brother of Secrest went to Stanly this week and brought her here on Thursday. Her evidence is very important, if believed. She stated that Secrest said during his stay with her that his father was opposed to the marriage, and he had sent his wife away and should soon join her. But it is a little remarkable that he should have been so frank with this relative without cautioning her for concealment, and then gone home and so emphatically denied the marriage. STRENGTHENING A WITNESS. B. C. Alexander, his son W. F. Alexander, who live on the land of McKee Secrest, and Mr. Secrest himself were introduced to corroborate the witness W. C. Rayner, who swore toat he saw Maggie Stevenson and child in Charlotte in December, 1877. They all swore that such was his statement on returning home from the visit to Charlotte. But this witness was destroyed by the State proving him to be of very bad character.

A. J. Harget, Deputy Sheriff of Union, was introducted to prove that Hoke Secrest made no effort to get away, and showed no signs of trepidation when arrested. The posse consisted of eight men and Deputy Sheriff. James King, brother to a brother-in-law of Secrest, swore that he informed Hoke of the news that had come from Secrest, and Jonathan Miller proved good characters, but for most part, the witnesses for the defence are regarded as a bad lot, and do not receive much, if any credit, at the hands of spectators who express themselves.

He paid a deserved tribute to the worth of the people of the Metropolitan District, and to the sons of Orange. Mr. Davis wisely and ably advocates the abolishment of ten per cent. tax on our banks. He is opposed to the pres-ent system of National banks.

The Standard Recognized.

The Catasauqua and Fogelsville Railroad Company have contracted with Messrs. Fairbanks & Co, for a railroad track scale one hundred and twelve feet long and two hundred and fifty thousand pounds capacity, similar to those in use by the Pennsylvania, Philadelphia and Reading, and Lehigh Valley Railroads, for weighing trains of coal cars while in motion.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural results. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. ### Wasted Opportunities.

The world, in all its history, has been full of opportunities thrown away, and in almost every instance, it will be found that those, who have sold or surrendered the chauces of promotion or respect, or of estimation or reward, have been either actuated by a blind futuity, a low revenge or a sordid Spirit. Esau sold his birthright for a miserable mess of pottage. Arnold sacrificed his honor and his patriotism an the altar of a disappointed ambition. Coriolanus waged war upon his native city from motives of revenge. Cataline, who at one time stood pre-eminent in the favor of his countrymen. conspired against the liberties of Rome. because his envious nature could brook no rivalry. The very dog, in the memorable fable of Æiop, gave up the substance in a greedy craving for the shadow. But we have in our mind's eye, at present, two modern instances of a throwing away of opportunities, which bear the stamp of utter insanity or profligacy, or both. After the close of the late war, the people of the South, emerging from an ordeal of terrible suffering, broken in spirit and chastened by affliction, were in a mood to be softened and attracted by the slightest Radical and rewarded pets, Longstreet, manifestation of sympathy and magnanimity. Had the men who, from the others that we could mention, -and be various causes to which it is not necessary here to refer, came to the front at the position of a private to that of that time in North Carolina, as the Brigadier General. Since the war, he official representatives of the dominant has earnestly labored to bring about power, pursued a policy of generosity harmony and rec neiliation and hes and good will, the Republisher a stand in our national councils R STEVENS, Boston, ass. lican party, controlled by such of which he and his constituency have vertical sold by all bruggists a spirit, would have had a lodgment in our midst which could not have been shaken. But neither the men themselves were equal to the inscincts of a magnanimous spirit, nor was the party, in its essential nature, capable of generous impulses. It was born of hate and all uncharitableness, and it found in the South, at the end of the late struggie, fit instruments of its malignity. The result was that, as soon as our pec ple, recovering from the first shock of adversity, resuming their manhood, and witnessing the purposes of their oppressors, had the chance afforded them, they spurned and threw off the control of that party as a man would discard a leprous garment. In the light of present events, and in view of the manifest and inherent tendencies of this pestilent organization, it is fortunate that events have transpired as they have: but this fact does not alter the truth which we have stated, that a different policy of conciliation and kindness would have given the Republican party a long lease of power in the

To descend to individuals: There is Josiah Turner, who presents, in himself, one of the most marked instances of modern record of a voluntary and miserable surrender, from the paltriest of motives and by the blindest of follies, of high opportunities. At the time of his rescue from the clutches of Kirk and his men, there was a feeling for him in the Democratic party of North Carolina that would have hesitated at no substantial or honorable expression. It was prepared to bestow upon him both honors and emoluments. It did give him the strongest practical evidences of gratitude, by electing him Public Printer of the State, through which position he received many thousands and tens of thousands of doilars from the Treasury. But the difficulty was in the man. Instead of reposing upon the dignified consciousness of duty performed and public service discharged from high and patriotic motives, he at once not only clamored for an equivalent and even extravagant reward, but he grew irritable and abusive, from envy, at every appearance or suspicion of a rival for public favor. He waxed domineering and arbitrary, assumed the airs and insolences of a Dictator, and seemed to think that he. alone, was entitled to a monopoly of all that the Democratic party had to be stow. Failing, hrough his own weaknesses and extravagances, to realize the expectations of a misdirected and prurient ambition, he coveted the embrace, and is to-day locked in the arms, of the very men and the same party whom he ordinary wisdom, patience and dignity, he would not have forfeited the regard of his old and tried friends. As it is, he has "thrown away his opportunity," and is at once an alien from his former household and an object of derision to those who are seeking to use him to the damage of the Democratic party. Now lies he there, and none so poor as to do him reverence."

Gen. Scales and the shiners."

It is seldom that we have been called upon to chronicle a more brazen instance of mendacity, insolence and impudence than the following, which appears in the shape of a "morning telegram" from Washington, in a late number of the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph: "It is not unlikely that the Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fifth North Carolina District will be brought up with a round turn. His speech, reported to the Department, in which he urges the moonshiners in his District to resist the Revenue officers sent there to enforce the law imposing a tax on spirits, will be inquired into, and, if his constituents follow his advice, he will be subject to severe penalties. Mr. Scales was in the 35th Congress, and has not yet recovered from the part he bore on the other side of the late war. The Treasury Department is in earnest in enforcing the laws relating to illicit distillation, and Scales' interference would be treated as an effort to defraud the government, not-withstanding the fact that he is a member of the present House of Represen-

It is only necessary to state, in order to dispose of the lie embodied in this statement :

1. That there are no "moonshiners"

in Gen. Scales' District. 2. There has never been resistance to Revenue officers, nor any difficulty between them and the people, in the Fifth District. 3. Gen. Scales, at the time of the appearance of this paragraph, had made but one or two speeches, and they were exclusively devoted to financial matters, as his speeches since then have been, We have no means of arriving at the paternity of the falsehoods above quoted, but they smack strongly of the "nineteen dead negroes in a single mill pond" invention, for which A. W. Tourgee was responsible some years ago. The object of that infamous story was to fire the Northern mind and provoke military interference in our elections, and the object of this last wilful misrepresentation is equally as apparent. It is intended, doubtless, to influence the Republican committee in Washington to "shell out" more freely to the Fifth District in the coming canvass as well as to do the work of intimidation. The allusion to Gen. Scales' participation in the late war, and the intimation that, on account of that participation, he is an object of suspicion to the government, are as silly as they are thoroughly contemptible. Gen. Scales was in the late war, -as were those Mosby, Ike Young, Badger, and many influence, and animated by such reason to be proud. He is the o't'e ep 1 ... 2w.

last men to advise or tolerate resistance to any law of the land, but they little know the stuff whereof he is made, who suppose that he can be intimidated by such foolish and malignant threats. They little appreciate, too, the people of the Fifth District, who do not know how prompt they will be to rebuke the cowardly and base spirit which prompted and pervades the article upon which we have commented.

IT MUST HAVE BEEN a funny sight, in that Radical pow-wow on Saturday last, called by way of exceeding courtesy or irony "a mass-meeting." to see Moses A. Bledsoe assuming the role of a leader and of director of oeremonies. It must be confessed that, for a novice in the party, he played the new part quite dextrously and entirely laid the veterans and old "war-horses" in the shade. Admiring, as we do, the cool courage and (" not to put too fine a point upon it," as Mr. Snagsby would say,) the cheeky audacity, with which Moses took possession of the situation and "ruled the roost," we are not to be restrained from awarding him due credit for the performance. When it is remembered that his allegiance is only a moon or two old, it was refreshing to hear his declarations to the effect that he was undoubtedly the strongest man "in the party," but that, if "the party" thought any other man (except Jo. Turner) stronger, he was ready, in a spirit of unselfish abnegation, to retire from the contest and aid the Republican standard bearer with all his might! We score one for Moses. As Capt. Cuttle remarked, "the point" of a joke is in the "application thereof," and as the greater lights and reflectors of "the party" were altogether obscured, in the convention in question, by the new luminary, the success of his efforts, as evidenced by the animus of the convocation, is the greatest tribute to his skilful manuvering. The next thing on docket is the first of October Convention, and, meanwhile, the "poor Jo" of the Radical Executive Committee is "moving on,"-no one knows or seems to care where, unless it be Young, Badger and "Chicken Gunter." Having "endorsed" him, they are naturally solicitous as to his whereabouts, as well as responsible for his movements.

"The questions of slavery and the Missouri Compromise," says the Washington Post, "are likely to become thoroughly understood before the campaign closes. The country is under lasting obligations to the Radical mangers for keeping these eminently pracdenounced with all the vehemence of tical issues squarely to the front." If his nature. Had he acted the part of the Post would turn its eyes in this direction, it would be loaded down with an additional sense of obligation. We have a Radical candidate for Congress, not unknown to fame, -in other words, Mr. Josiah Turner, - who scorns the discussion of questions of Finance and such obsolete and effete subjects, but devotes his speeches altogether to the live matters of "Union" and "Secession." Our cotemporary may not possibly be informed of the fact as yet, but it is well for him and the country to know in time, that "Hawkins" and "Heck" are also treated and considered as live and pivotal issues, upon which our national destinies must ultimately turn!

CINCINNATI, April 9, 1877. IR. H. R. STEVENS:-MR. H. R. STEVENS:—
Dear Sir,—I have used your medicine, the Vegetine for Rheumatism with great success, and believe it to be the best medicine for that complaint that there is. I also know it is a good blood purifier, and at the present time am using it as the best spring medicine that I know of. I take great pleasure in recommending the Vegetine to my friends.

H. MUND, Charles Street.

Thousands will bear testimeny (and do it voluntarily), that Vegetine is the best medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all humors, impurities, or polsonous secretions from the system, invigorating and strengthening the system debilitated by disease; in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."

Thus proceedings were stopped, until they can see what is to be done with the reserver of statements.

-This week the old post office building, lately purchased by the county, will be moved in rear of the court house. It will probably be whitewashed and it is said several chairs and a bench will be placed in it, the purpose being to use it as a lunch and lounging room. The purchase of this building by the county for $25, has been spoken of as an extravagance. If the winter be a cold one it will probably be used for

Bought Him out.

Mr. F. Gruendler has bought out the cigar store of Mr. Geo. Ziegler, and will hereafter conduct the business thereat. Mr. Greundler was for some time connected with Mr. Ziegler in the manufacture of cigars.

Colored Dime Party.

The congregation of St. Pauls A. M. E. Church will give a dime party at Metropolitan Hall to morrow night for the benefit of the church. The public are respectfully invited. Admission, adults 10cts, children 5cts.

State Guard Notes.

The Rocky Mount Light Infantry has been organized, and the following of-ficers elected: J H Thorp, Captain; Dr R C Tillery, 1st Lieutenant; S L Hart, Jr, 2d Lieutenant; J R Tillery, Junior 2d Lieutenant.

The Colored Graded School.

This school opened yesterday in the large Second Baptist church, colored, known, more popularly, as Tupper's Church. The attendance was large, over 200 hundred pupils giving their names. The school is under the control of W. R. Harris, colored. The number of pupils will be very largely in-

Postponed.

Owing to the rain the target practice for the gold badge by the Raleigh Light Infantry did not occur yesterday. The command assembled at the armory, and held a dress parade, after which it was dismissed. The day on which the practice will be had was not announced, but will be given in a few days.

Won't Give It.

A correspondent, writing from Durham, said that Joe Turner would not every vote he got over ten. Mr. Blackwell says he did not say this. Of course it was all in fun but Mr. B. objects to being credited with remarks he didn't make. He says he has nothing to do with politics further than to do all in his power to elect the regular Demo-

type, and is gotten up with admirable taste. An article on the history of the paper from its foundation to the present is also given. The Observer takes rank as one of the best journals in the South, full of news of the freshest and most general character. That continued prosperity may attend to the present and most general character. That continued prosperity may attend to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, for the Eighteenth Annual Fair, October 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19th next, at Raleigh, N. C. [Acknowledged by C. B. Derson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee.]

The Military Aiding.

One of the finest n the Guard, the companies Goldsboro Rifles, has organized from among its members a minstrel troupe, and will soon play for the benefit of the military of New Orleans. This aid comes at a good time, for the Regiment of Orleans Artillery has earnestly asked assistance from soldiers everywhere. The Golds-boro Rifles, Company D. First Regiment, has the honor of being the pioneer in the movement.

At Large. The negro who committed the outrages of beating two negro wemen and shooting another pair, near Haywood, Chatham county, is yet at large, though desperate. He now lies hid in the woods, it is thought, armed with a shot gun. A description of his appearance notes him as a stout yellow boy, bright and sharp, very polite. He may have come down this way, as he has acquaintances here.

True to His Trust.

In a letter to Mr. A. P. C. Bryan, Mr. the Southern Express Company, in- terms are mest liberal. forms him of the death by yellow fever of Mr. William Willis, who died at his post, at Memphis, on the 15th instant. The letter says: "The noble, self-sac-rificing spirit which prompted Supt. Willis to remain at his post despite the strongest protest; his earnest and indefatigable labors, surrounded by the horrors of the plague, minister ing to the afflicted people, for whom he at last yielded up his life, need no comment here." As a mark of respect to the memory of our co laborer and friend, as also to others who have fallen victims to the yellow fever, it is requested that emblems of mourning be displayed at each of our principal offices, for 30 days.

$100.00, and one splendid boar (Berkshire), $100.00; given by George W. Harris. manager for R. M. Hoe, Bright Side, Morrisiana, New York, In stating the value of these splendid animals at two hundred dollars, the Secretary has the authority of Mr. Harris, who writes that he obtained that price for such animals on the spot. It is not necessary to inform intelligent farmers of the high standing of this superb establishment. The swine are all carefully registered, and Mr. Hoe publishes a full illustrated catalogue with pediately and the superbishes and the superbishes are superbished. gree and measurements of all portions of the body of his splendid stock. The small Yorkshires are new to the South, and in fact are known as yet to a limited extent in this country. "They are very short in snout, finely dished in face, lengthy in body, deep in the chest, straight and very broad on back, fine in bone, very short in the leg, with small, thin and erect ears, fine tail, and thick, square, deeply-cut hams and shoulders they are very short in the neck, with a posse search for him constantly. His name is Alvis Crum. He is quite a youth, but is a negro of bad habits and down in fork and low out in the flank." Mr. Hoe's interesting books may be seen at the office. Three annual subscriptions to the "South Atlantic" Magazine, given by Mrs. Cicero W. Harris, Editress, of Wilmington, N. C. This magazine is by far the brightest purely literary star in the Southern horizon. At Mrs. Harris' request, these three premiums will be added to those for the best oil painting, the best crayon drawing, and the best loaf of bread. ### New Store-New Goods.

Having opened a grocery and general merchandise store in the Adams build-ing, No. 2 Martin street, I would announce to my old customers and the public generally, that I shall keep in stock a large and varied selection of dry goods, groceries, boots, shoes, &c., &c. Buying at cash prices, as I do, I can at all times compete with the market and afford my customers all the advantages offered to the trade. I shall be glad to give strict personal attention to all business in my line. W. E. Dupree, Raleigh, N. C., Martin street, Adams building.

THE STABLE OF MR. ROBERT BONNER, Proprietor New York Ledger. is built and kept on the most improved and modern plan, both as regards ventilation, ligut, warmth etc Mr. conner's taste for horses is well known. The gentleman in charge of this valuable stable was Mr. Ross. By the use of Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia, he removed ringbones and bunches that had resisted all other treatment. Send for circular, giving Juli Instructions, to Dr. Giles, 451 6th avenue, New York.

YOUR BREAD WILL NEVER BE SOUR. YOUR FOOD WILL BE THE BEST. YOUR BREAD WILL BE WHITER AND RICHER. YOUR HEALIH WILL BE PRESERVED BY ITS PURITY. WARRANTED TO KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE

We do most earnestly caution consumers of Baking Powder against using adulterate and cheap goods, a no good and pure Baking Powder can be sold for less than ours.

An analysis of the cheap clap-trap spurious adulterated goods called Baking Powder, would startle the community of consumers beyond precedence, as most of it is not fit for use, and would not be allowed to be sold were the laws enforced; yet goods of this kind are manufactured and sold by dealers because offered cheap by unscrapulous manufacturers. We caution those who value health, and appreciate good, wholesome living to buy only Pure Baking Powder. Jones' Unrivaled is such. It is an established article throughout the West and South, and is recommended by the highest authority for Purity and Strength.

All first-class storekeepers have it because it is pure and can be relied upon, and is a credit to their stock.

Merchalts are authorized to warrant our goods where directions are followed.

Our statements are correct and are backed by chemists of Lote and experience, and we hold ourselves ready to prove our assertions.

We are offering goods of undoubted purity, which are in their compounding, as we claim "UNRIVALED."
